Supervision as a management tool and support quality in the helping professions.

ABSTRACT
The author in his work deals with the interpretation possibilities of supervision as an effective tool in the management and quality support services in the helping professions. In the introductory part of glosses and defines terminology related to the concept of supervision and its functions. It also deals with questions of supervision in the management function, its definition and its implementation problems in the transformation of social services. The final section then briefly commenting on the specifics defining the concept of "quality" in the field of social services.

Key words
Supervision, management, support, quality, helping professions.